LONGWORTHS' STAY
IN MASSACHUSETTS

Have Been Visiting Relatives
at Newton During Week.

WILL GO TO NEW HAVEN

Tomorrow They Are to Witness the Yale-Harvard Football Game.

Representative and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, who are making a visit in New England with Mrs. Longworth's relatives will be in New Haven tomorrow, where they will witness the Harvard-Yale football game. They spent a few days with Mrs. Longworth's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Mumford, at Chestnut Hill, Newton, Mass., this week, to be near Mrs. Longworth's maternal grandmother, Mrs. George Lee, of Boston, who is ill.

During their stay with the Mumfords they had visits from Mrs. Longworth's brothers, Theodore, Jr., and Kermit, who are at Harvard and Groton, respectively.

Mrs. Charles McCawley will leave Washington early next week for Lakewood, N. J., and New York, where they will spend Thanksgiving with Miss Freilinger, Mrs. McCawley's sister. They will be the guests at Lakewood of Mrs. H. Winthrop Gray, also a sister of Mrs. McCawley.

Mrs. Symons, wife of Col. Thomas W. Symons, U. S. A., entertained a number of young people at dinner last night in her home, in Lafayette square, in honor of her daughter, Miss Margaretta Symons. Her guests were Miss Chew, Miss Schneider, Miss Crosby, Miss Lodge, Lieut. J. H. Poole, Frank Ellis, Lieut. Edward McCawley, Mandeville Carlisle, Lieut. Philip Sheridan, and Lieut. Roger Black.

Miss Errol Cuthbert Brown has gone to San Francisco, where she is to be the maid of honor Tuesday at the wedding of her cousin, Miss Adelaide Brown, and Sydney Wallis.

Later Miss Brown will go to Erie, Pa., where she will be bridesmaid at the marriage of Miss Minnie Metcalf and Randolph Robinson, December 4.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Stevens, the former chief engineer of the Panama Canal Commission, are expected to arrive in New York Wednesday, November 25, and will come directly to Washington, where they have taken an apartment in the Connecticut apartment house.

Mrs. Victor Clement has returned to Washington after a brief stay in New York.

Mrs. C. S. Guthrie, who has been spending the past few days in New York, has returned to Washington.

Capt. Spencer Cosby, who spent the last two months in Europe, is returning to Washington and has taken an apartment in the Connecticut apartment house.

Mr. Porter, the Washington representative of the London Times; Mrs. Porter and Miss Porter, have recently arrived in Washington and have taken an apartment in the Portland for the winter.

The Washington Water Club has cards out for its eleventh annual exhibition in the Hemicycle of the Cooper Art Gallery on Saturday, November 24, with private view from 10 to 4, and reception in the evening from 8 to 11.

The exhibition will be open to the public daily from November 25 to December 15.

Mrs. Charles H. Campbell, 201 G street, has cards out for a tea Friday, November 20, from 5 to 7.

Mrs. Hastings, Miss Hastings, and the Misses Morris have cards out for a tea Tuesday, December 1, from 4 to 6, in their home, 1314 Massachusetts avenue.

Miss Cushing will entertain at a small informal tea tomorrow afternoon, for Miss Earls, one of the season's debutantes.

Mrs. William Curtis Hill has cards out for a tea Monday, November 23, to meet Miss Dural, who is the guest of Mrs. Edward Stielwagen.

Mrs. Thomas H. Barry and Miss Barry will be at home, at 2110 O street, Tuesday in December and January.

The marriage of Miss Clara Montetouner, of Spain, and Clayton de Pea-ney, of Pennsylvania, will take place in Washington, December 19.

A beautiful home wedding took place Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Morris, Riverdale, when their daughter, Minnie Johnson, and Alfred T. Browning were married in the presence of the bride's mother and a few personal friends by the Rev. C. J. Mayo, of Pinkney Church, Hyattsville. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and carried a bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Mayo played the wedding music. After a wedding supper the bride and groom left for a Northern trip, and on their return will reside at Riverdale, Md. The bride was the recipient of many handsome presents.

Miss Katherine P. Martin, daughter of Mrs. R. H. Martin, and Dr. William Hamilton Smith, Jr., of Baltimore, will be married tomorrow afternoon in the home of the bride's father, Mr. George P. Hales, of the bride's sister, will be the matron of honor and the bridesmaid will be Miss Erwin Werber, of Berwyn, Md., and Miss Julia Kupper, and Miss Manie J. Cobb, of Washington.

Dr. Dallas G. Sutton will be the best man for Dr. Smith.

After January 1, Dr. Smith will take his bride to Baltimore, where they will reside at 1715 Guilford avenue.

The committee of the Georgetown Assembly will give three dances in Lintin-um hall this season, the first to take place during the Christmas holidays, the definite date to be announced later.

The committee this year is as follows: Leonard L. Nicholson, Mrs. Rawlings Ecker, secretary.

MISS KATHERINE ELKINS,

Daughter of Senator and Mrs. Elkins, Who Is One of the Charming Figures at the Horse Show in New York This Week.

LOWTHER IN LEAD
FOR AMBASSADOR

Will Probably Be Successor of Sir Mortimer Durand.

Indications all point to the appointment of Gerald Lowther, former secretary of the British embassy in this city, as ambassador from Great Britain, to succeed Sir Mortimer Durand, and likewise all signs point to the return to England of Lord Curzon, son-in-law of Mrs. Levi Z. Leiter, who is now in Chicago, and who has been prominently spoken of for the position. Lord Curzon has just leased a London residence, Reigate Priory, Surrey, a fine mansion occupying the site of an ancient priory, and dating from the time of Queen Anne.

This would indicate that Lord Curzon has no intention of remaining in this country.

On the other hand, the family of Gerald Lowther's American wife, the Atherton Blights, who had announced their intention of spending the winter abroad, have suddenly changed their plans, and will remain in New York, all of which are straws which perhaps show which way the wind is blowing.

General and Mrs. Sternberg entertained at dinner last night in their home in Massachusetts avenue. The guests were Gen. and Mrs. Anson Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Warner, and Mr. and Mrs. George Marry.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaw Oliver entertained informally at dinner last night in their home in N street. Their guests were Colonel and Mrs. Brown, Captain Cloman and Mrs. Clement, Miss Hagner, Captain Gilmour, Dr. and Mrs. Pettus, Captain Hutchinson, and Captain Fitzhugh Lee.

Lieut. Col. George Barnett, U. S. M. C., entertained informally yesterday in his home in the Navy Yard, in honor of Miss Elsie Jarvis McLean, daughter of Commander and Mrs. Walter McLean, U. S. N., and Miss Katherine Jennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hennen Jennings.

Miss Katherine Stewart Williams, who has been the guest of Miss Catherine Cullen Ridgley, daughter of the Commander of the Currency and Mrs. William Barrett Ridgley, left Washington yesterday for New York, where she will be the guest of Miss Brockbridge, of Ninety-fourth street, during the horse show.

The first meeting of the season of the Afternoon Bridge Whist Club was held in the home of Mrs. Sol Meyer, of Massachusetts avenue, when those present were Mrs. Isaac Behrend, Mrs. Simon Kann, Mrs. Gerson Nordlinger, Mrs. Rudolph B. Behrend, Mrs. Sol Minister, Mrs. Sidney C. Kaufman, and Miss Helene Eisenman.

A most delightful eucher was given last night at the Alexandria Y. M. C. A. by the Council of Jewish Women. The affair which was so well arranged by the president, Mrs. N. Wolfberg, and the secretary, Miss Jennie Blondheim, netted a good sum, which will be donated to charity. There were about thirty prizes given, the first lady's prize being won by Mrs. A. Robinson, and the first gentleman's prize by Miss Morris.

A small, but interesting, wedding took place Wednesday afternoon in the parsonage of the Calvary Baptist Church, when Miss Nellie Ramsberg and L. Allyn Shackelford were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. H. Greene, and the wedding party consisted of the bride's family.

Mr. and Mrs. Shackelford left for a trip to Old Point and other places, and upon their return will be at home to their friends at 409 I street northwest after December 1.

Mrs. Townsend and Miss Mathilde Townsend, who have recently returned from abroad to their home, in Massachusetts avenue, will entertain a small company at dinner tonight.

Mrs. Hennen Jennings entertained informally at luncheon today in her home, 1626 Rhode Island avenue.

Mrs. Leutze, wife of the Commandant of the Navy Yard, will entertain informally at tea this afternoon.

Mrs. McGowan, wife of Rear Admiral McGowan, entertained informally at tea yesterday afternoon in her home, in N street, and which was assisted by several of the season's debutantes.

Carefully selected quotations from Mrs. Elsie Cleave Parsons' book, "The Family," the most widely criticised book on record which gives the history of human family as such, and Mrs. Parsons' scheme for trial marriages will be found in next Sunday's Washington Times. Don't fail to read it.

MISS ELKINS' SKILL
AS A HORSEWOMAN

Senator's Daughter a Promi-
York Show.

Miss Katherine Elkins, daughter of the Senator from West Virginia, is one of the most prominent and attractive figures at the New York Horse Show, where she has been since the opening. Miss Elkins is one of the skilled whips in Washington society, and likewise one of the best judges of horsemanship. She has made the rounds of the Virginia horse shows, and has recently been a member of a hunting party at Delaplaine, N. Y., where the sport was fine, and where she did some of the most skilled riding. Miss Elkins will return to her home in Washington in another week and take her place again as a leader in her set of smart society.

Mrs. Elkins returned to her K street mansion late last week, but the house still being in the hands of workmen in the putting in of a new elevator, her social plans are in abeyance, and no dates for their entertaining can be made.

Capt. and Mrs. Richmond Pearson Hobson are entertaining quite informally in their apartments in the Connecticut this afternoon Miss Irene Hobson, a cousin of Mr. Hobson, who has a leading part with "The Social Whirl" company. Miss Hobson is a tall, graceful girl, much prettier in her own proper person than as Mrs. Ellingham in the play. She says that from a child her one ambition was to become an actress, and four years ago she came from her home in Alabama to enter the American Academy—ran away, she laughingly declares.

She boasts of five ministers in her family, and she is the first Hobson to enter the dramatic profession. She was playing the Queen in "The Nazarene" when Mr. Shubert saw her and made her the offer which resulted in her playing a society matron in "The Social Whirl."

Miss Hobson's gowns have attracted widespread attention. When asked about her modiste she replied: "I design and make every gown and hat I wear. Individually really counts for so much on the stage. Then I realize that everybody cannot wear the gowns which become me, so there is little trouble in showing my individuality in this matter."

Ladies of Christ Church
Georgetown, Hold Successful Affair.

A unique bazaar was held yesterday at the large old-fashioned dwelling, 3049 P street, for the benefit of the Christ Church, Georgetown, choir fund. The room was beautifully decorated by the ladies of the church. Sandwiches, tea, and coffee were served by Mrs. Percy Thompson and Mrs. Griffith. Mrs. Henry Matthews had charge of the cake table, and Mrs. Jones, Miss Brewer, and Miss Matthews served at the tea table. There was a handsome display of fancy work under the direction of Mrs. Matthews, Mrs. Dickenson, and Mrs. Duncan Bradley. Miss Dorset and Miss Graves had charge of the apron and bag table, and Mrs. Reese and Mrs. Laub had the candy table.

An interesting feature of the bazaar was the Chinese laundry, under the direction of Mrs. Dowd, and Miss Bell. The room was made mysterious by packages wrapped like bundles of laundry, and behind the counter, which was an ironing board, were two young ladies dressed in Chinese costume, who gave the packages in exchange for laundry checks, which were bought at the door.

The young ladies in charge of the laundry counter were Miss Wallace, Miss DeLashmutt, Miss Shoemaker, Miss Goldwin, and Miss Miller.

Mrs. Hubbard was in charge of the chrysanthemum table, and Miss Knobel had the ever-fascinating grabbag. The fair will be continued tonight.

being won by Mrs. A. Robinson, and the first gentleman's prize by Miss Morris.

A small, but interesting, wedding took place Wednesday afternoon in the parsonage of the Calvary Baptist Church, when Miss Nellie Ramsberg and L. Allyn Shackelford were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. H. Greene, and the wedding party consisted of the bride's family.

STEPFATHER SEEKS
RUNAWAY YOUTH

Earl Cobey of Rome, N. Y.,
Believed to Be Hiding
in Washington.

Fifteen-year-old Earl Cobey, who ran away from his home in Rome, N. Y., on October 1, and wrote a letter from Washington three weeks later, is believed to be here yet. His stepfather, Frederick McAllister, has asked the Capital detectives and police to aid in the search for the lad. Inspector of Detectives Boardman has been furnished with a photograph and minute description of young Cobey.

The boy's mother has grieved incessantly since he left home in anger with the avowed determination never to return. She has made repeated efforts to get into communication with him since receiving the letter under a Washington date line, on October 22, but without avail. The stepfather came to Washington to locate the lad and assure him that a loving mother would welcome him back to a cheerful home, and all would be forgotten and forgiven if he returned to Rome.

The boy's mother believes he could make his own way in the world, and left home with that intention. His mother thinks otherwise, and knows he is without the necessary clothing and funds.
